

NDI³ conference 2024

The 46th NDI³ conference will take place on 11 November in the historic manor house of the Research Center Borste*. All interested and enthusiastic scientists are cordially invited.

Highlights of this year's programme include three renowned keynote speakers, talks and poster presentations, science and product slams, networking, socialising over delicious food and the latest products at our sponsors' stands.

All information on the programme and registration can be found at <https://ndi3.fz-borstel.de/>.
